

Abstract

An automated outbound telemarketing system and process which uses prerecorded scripts and voice recognition responses to collect data from called parties; data to be used for sales, sales leads, sales referrals, surveys, contest registration, seminar registration, and any other general or specific information dissemination and/or data collection uses.